Jobless Claims Rise, Bristol Office Says

5 Hurt In Series Of Auto Crashes In Bristol Twp.

3 Injured As Police Pursue Speeding Car

Five persons were injured last night in a series of automobile accident reported by Bristol Township Police. A number of motorists were given summonses for traffic violations as a result of the mishaps.

Three of the persons were injured when a speeding car pursued by police went through a red light at Routes 13 and 413 and crashed into another car at 11:40 p. m.

David T. Hess, 27, of Andalusia, driver of the speeding car, suffered a head injury, and a passenger in his car, Frank Zuchelli, 25, of Stroudsburg, suffered cuts of the forehead.

Taken to Hospital

Both were treated at Bristol General Hospital. Zuchelli was taken to the hospital by the Bucks County Rescue Squad.

Hess' speeding car crashed into one driven by Miss Eunice Kelly, 19, of 702 Spruce street, Bristol, according to Patrolmen William Jayne and Harvey C. Shaw, Jr.

Miss Kelly's car was forced into a utility pole by the impact, police said. Miss Lorraine Mullin, 19, a passenger, of 309 Walnut street, Bristol, suffered a hand injury. She was treated at Bristol General Hospital.

Hess will be charged with failing to stop at a red traffic signal and reckless driving, police said. Both cars were towed from the scene of the accident.

Robert E. Morrison of Second avenue, Edgely and Miss Helen Koran of Southampton were injured in a three-car pile-up at Route 413 and Emilie-Newportville road at 10:30 p. m.

Patrolmen Bentley Chapin and Shaw said a car operated by Miss Nancy R. Triscoll of Southampton was making a left turn when it was struck by Morrison's car. The impact forced Miss Triscoll's car into one driven by Edward A. Zasycki of Trenton.

Miss Koran, passenger in Miss Triscoll's car, suffered head injuries. Both were taken to Bristol General Hospital by the Bucks County Rescue Squad.

Morrison will be charged with driving too fast for conditions and Miss Triscoll for failing to yield right of way, police said.

A car operated by Cecil H. Billger of Avenue D and Second street, Langhorne, was struck in the rear by one driven by Emily Latvis of Oxford Valley Trailer Park, Langhorne, about 7:45 p. m. at Route 413 and Ford road. Patrolmen George Neill and Shaw reported. The latter motorist will be charged with following too closely.

Today at 2:45 a. m. a car operated by Theodore Nickerson of 547 Court B, Bristol Terrace 2, went into a ditch on Route 13 just east of Route 413, police said. Nickerson and his wife escaped injury.

The Bristol office of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service has no requests to fill job vacancies that are likely to absorb any considerable numbers of the 800 employees laid off by Kaiser Metal Products Company this past week.

As a matter of fact, according to Francis L. Mathews, manager of the office, unemployment in the area has taken a sudden turn upward and claimants for unemployment compensation last week were at the highest peak for any week in more than two years.

Mathews said last week there were approximately 800 compensation claimants, whose unemployment had lasted through at least one compensable week.

In addition, Mathews said, there were 258 new claims filed during the week by persons more recently laid off.

Neither of these figures reflects any of the persons affected by the Kaiser lay-off, according to Mathews. Filing of claims by members of that group has not yet started.

The employment office is in process of preparing its regular bi-monthly letter which, this time, in contrast to issues over the past 15 or 16 months, will reflect a downward employment trend.

The trend has been developing slowly for some time, Mathews said. Some but not all of the current unemployment is seasonal, he added, since the claim load always goes up after the first of December.

One contrasting factor, Mathews said, was that the office received reports of 175 job openings during the past week, the great majority of them for skilled workers.

The Kaiser lay-off came amid rumors of plans for reductions by other firms in the area but some of these were vehemently denied. Personnel officials of Rohm and Haas and of the Croydon plant of the Philco Corporation denied any prospect of lay-offs in the near future.

A spokesman for the Kaiser Metal Products Company attributed its lay-off, to a change in production schedules.

Only 8 Per Cent

The spokesman also pointed out that the lay-off affected less than eight per cent of the company's Bristol plant payroll of slightly over 11,000 employees.

H. L. Wyant, publicity director for the Pennsylvania Railroad, said that a nation-wide lay-off of 7,000 PRR employees would have little effect in this area.

Wyant said that no more than 200 persons would be laid off in the New York division of the firm.

Christmas Trees Magnetize Thieves

Two men are being held at Bristol Borough Jail today and all because of a Christmas tree.

Joseph A. Mulher, Emilie road, Bristol Township, and Jacob T. Opal, 837 Delaware avenue, Riverside, N. J., were picked up last night as they attempted to take Christmas trees from the Bristol Auto Center, Out Route 13 and Market street.

Bristol Borough Policemen William Bolton and Matthew Bragg spotted the men while they were on patrol. Officer Vincent Faragalli is conducting the investigation.

Psychosomatic Medicine Given Praise of Doctor

Psychosomatic medicine has become a vital part of the treatment of patients, Dr. Paul J. Poinard, Philadelphia psychiatrist, who spoke at the Bucks County Workshop said last night. Dr. Poinard's talk was the sixth in a series of eight lectures entitled "Introduction to Psychiatry."

"The basis of psychosomatic medicine is that many organic conditions have emotional causes," he said, "and the only way to cure the organic ill is to ascertain the emotional disturbance causing it."

Dr. Poinard listed the various types of psychosomatic illnesses, how they may be detected and their treatment. He added that psychosomatic medicine has received wide acceptance today in the medical world, where before it was not understood or accepted.

Dr. Poinard, who specializes in medical psychiatry, is a psychiatrist and a neurologist. He is an assistant consultant at the Philadelphia General Hospital, the Presbyterian Hospital and the Pennsylvania Hospital. He is also associated with St. Francis Hospital in Wilmington, Del. Dr. Poinard is an associate in psychiatry on the staff of the Jefferson Medical College.

The hour-long lecture was followed by a question and answer period.

PRESENT YULE DRAMA AT MORRISVILLE CHURCH

A Christmas play will be given at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in the First Presbyterian Church, Morrisville.

"The Little Shepherd," directed by Margaret Watkins, will be presented by members of the congregation. The cast is headed by Barbara Burns, Joy Skelton and John Heenan. Mrs. Jerome Fritz will direct the junior choir in selections.

St. Francis Hospital Envisions Bright Day With New Wing Ready

When the new wing of the St. Francis Hospital, Trenton, is opened the first of the year, these new maternity ward of the building will be one of the most modern in the United States, according to Miss Mary Laura Krysa, head nurse.

Each week, about 10 babies from the Lower Bucks County area are born at the hospital, which, in the past years, has been "suffering from a lack of accommodations for all kinds of patients. It is the maternity ward that will be a "delight to behold" by expectant mothers, according to Miss Krysa.

"The new maternity ward will have all modern facilities, and a larger staff," Miss Krysa said. "It will be a complete change from the crowded conditions we've experienced in the past. There will be more nurseries, too, and these nurseries are really beautiful."

First Building in 1874

The building program has, in a sense, been going on for 58 years. In 1895, the first wing was added to the original small, brick building, and the "expansion" program has been continuing as the community's health needs have increased.

The original building was built 79 years ago, in 1874, for only $35,000. The new wing, the culmination of the building program, has cost $4,000,000.

One thing that has not changed in the 79 years of the hospital is its nursing order. The hospital was founded by the Order of St. Francis and this order is still in charge of the hospital.

Bishop to Preside

Dedication ceremony for the new building of the hospital will be held at 3 p. m., Saturday, Dec. 26. The most Rev. George W. Ahl, bishop of Trenton, will preside at the ceremonies. The wing will be opened for inspection after the ceremonies.

The dedication program has been planned by a committee of the St. Francis Hospital Aid, under the supervision of the hospital administrator, Sister M. Pierre, OSF, and the staff doctors. The official opening will be followed by two more dedication days for community.

Closing of Bridge Stayed By Court

Citizens Score Point In Fight

The recently formed Delaware River Interstate Citizens' Association scored a point yesterday in its fight to keep free bridges across the Delaware open, when Federal Judge Philip Forman ruled in Trenton that the Delaware-Upper Bethel Township bridge remain open at least until the end of the year.

The Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission opened a new toll bridge two miles up the river from the old span on Dec. 1. The commission wants to demolish the free bridge.

Members of the citizens' association charged that such a move would deprive residents of the area of their rights. They are trying to block closing of the span.

Judge Forman declared that he is not certain the Federal Court has jurisdiction in the case. He gave counsel for the plaintiffs until Dec. 28 to submit a final brief on the matter. The commission was ordered to file an answer in 10 days.

At one point in the hearing, the judge questioned whether the commission could demolish the two free bridges between Trenton and Morrisville if it had power to close the North Jersey span.

Bucks Countians were warned recently by the citizens' association to be on the alert to prevent closing of free bridges in favor of toll spans.

Lower Bucks Band To Play In L'Town

The Lower Bucks County Concert Band will present a concert of Christmas music, together with marches, at the Levittown Shopping Center, Monday, Dec. 21, from 8 to 9 p. m.

The public is invited. All musicians are still welcome to join the band, which rehearses at 8 p. m. every Monday in the John Fitch Grade School, Levittown.

Jingle Bells, Jingle Bells; Area Wakens To Yule Spirit

You might think it was Christmas already. To some kids in the area it is—with parties scheduled today and tomorrow to prove it.

Chester W. Terchow Post, 5542, Bristol, will fete children of members at 2 p. m. Sunday. The party will be held at Fifth Ward Sporting Club, Wood street near Taylor street.

Four hundred children of post and auxiliary members will view Christmas films and a Punch and Judy show. Santa Claus will be on hand to present gifts.

Party by GOP Club

In Buckingham today, 500 children will see well-known TV and radio personalities perform at a Yule party sponsored by the Local Republican Club of Bucks County. The affair will begin at 1 p. m.

State Senator Edward Watson, program chairman, said the children will munch candy, hot dogs and sip root beer during the show.

Entertainers will include Betty's Theater Revue, consisting of hand puppets; Peggy Arnold with her banjo and guitar, and Harry and Jean Heath, novelty musical act.

Gifts From Santa

Santa Claus will be around at the end of the program to present gifts. Tomorrow at William Penn Center, Fallsington, two choirs will sing at the YWCA's traditional Hanging of the Greens. Choirs of the Fairless Hills Women's Club and of the First Presbyterian Church of Levittown will sing unusual and traditional carols during the ceremony.

Tullytown Driver Must Face Liquor Charge In Crash

Joseph Zukowski, 31, of Main street, Tullytown, will be given a hearing on a drunk driving charge this afternoon, as the result of an accident yesterday at 11:55 p. m. on Route 13 at Post road, Falls Township.

James Bowling, 8, of Bristol Pike, Morrisville RD., suffered bruises in the accident and was taken to Mercer Hospital, Trenton, by Falls Township police.

The youngster was a passenger in an automobile driven by his father Luther H. Bowling, 36, Fair Shilswipe.

Bowling's car was sideswiped by a pickup truck operated by Zukowski. Sgt. Julius Meszaros and Patrolman Wes Worsman reported. Zukowski, who left the scene of the accident, according to police, was arrested in Trenton by Trenton Police and returned to Falls Township.

Police said Zukowski was examined by a local physician and found unfit to drive.

In addition to the drunk-driving charge, Zukowski will be charged with not having a drivers license, leaving the scene of an accident and failing to identify himself at the scene of an accident.

Hearing will be before Justice of the Peace John Melvin, Fallsington.

FARMERS GATHER

CHICAGO—(INS) — The vanguard of some 5,000 members and delegates began arriving in Chicago today for the 35th annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

It will take place from 3 to 5 p. m.

Hostesses will aid guests in decorating the center with greens and trimming the trees. The Hanging of the Greens is an observance of the YWCA throughout the United States. It is being held here for the first time.

George School Musical

More than one quarter of the student body at George School will participate in the school's annual musical at Newtown Sunday.

The seven-part program will open with "Ave Maria" by the Day sisters, Betsy and Sally, of New York. Soloists during the cantata, which will be narrated by Mrs. Margaret Root, of Wycombe, will include Sue Murray, Dave Atkinson, both of Pipersville; Martha Yerkes, Newtown, and Buffy Dann, Lawrence, Pa.

A series of interpretive dances will be done by Veronica Reiff, of New York. Carol singing by the assembly will follow the dances. The Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's "Messiah" will be sung by an 80-voice mixed chorus at the conclusion of the program.

Santa Due Next Week

Amid the hurly burly of holiday buying in Lower Bucks County came the announcement of the Bristol-Lower Bucks County Chamber of Commerce that Santa Claus would tour the area next Saturday.

Santa, in the person of Horace P. Schmidt, Bristol, will make stops at the Fairless Hills Shopping Center, the Levittown Center and Mill street, Bristol.

Merchants at the area's holiday buying centers today reported brisk buying of gift items. Buying, however, was slower on decorative items and greens. A Levittown merchant said he expects a rush on greens and outdoor lights as residents begin to decorate their homes.

At present, he said, only a few homes in the area have outdoor decorations up.

Holiday decorations are up at all the centers. Yule music wafts over the heads of early shoppers from loudspeakers along Mill street in Bristol.

Happy Home Seen Weapon Against Rising Delinquency

Parents are urged to take the time to teach, train, love and play with their children by Mrs. Clarence Mason, of the Philadelphia Bible Institute.

Mrs. Mason spoke at the regular meeting of the Lower Southampton PTA on "The Home as a Firm Foundation."

She stressed the lack of time spent for training as the primary factor in juvenile delinquency. Mrs. Mason pointed out that the home builds a firm foundation for the child's character by being harmonious with courtesy, respect and thoughtfulness making a basis for the establishment of good ideals.

"All these things depend on parents," not possessions," she said.

Rehearsal of the PTA's show, "The Roaring Twenties," will begin at the Lower Southampton School on Monday. No date has been set for the presentation of the production. Mrs. Albert DeAngelis, president of the association, asked members to contribute clothes of the 1920's for the show.

Mrs. Merrill Galloway reported that last month's book fair was successful in awakening children's interest in good books. She said books ordered by the association would arrive at the school next week and be distributed to parents or children.

The association has 633 members, according to a report given by Mrs. Aaron Dolton.

10 DIE IN CRASH

Burglars Invade 3 Bristol Places, Get Total of $50

Three Bristol business places were broken into last night and a total of $50.36 stolen, according to Bristol Borough police.

Torano's Garage, 132 Otter street, was broken into and $10.36 taken from the cash register. The amount had been left in the register for change for today's business, according to police.

The Bristol Auto Center, Old Route 13 and Market street, was also entered and $40 was taken from the cash register.

The Bristol Scrap, Junk and Metal Company, 570 Otter street, was entered, but nothing was stolen. Desk drawers were pulled out and the office had been upset, according to police.

Officer Vincent Faragalli is investigating the three cases.

Calls On Fathers To Strike At Smut

Delhaas Leader Asks Vigilance

Fathers are best equipped to stamp out the spread of obscene literature and similar unsavory material among children, according to Dr. R. C. Cary newly elected president of the Delhaas Fathers Association.

"Fathers can be watching for it at the source," Dr. Cary said. He pointed out that the father is closer to the child than the high school and if he is watching for such materials he can put a stop to its spread.

"We are well aware of the problem," Dr. Cary said, in speaking of the newly formed association. He said the group has discussed it at meetings and is prepared to stamp it out among their children and the children of neighbors.

Cites Secret Groups

In connection with the Problem, Dr. Cary mentioned the forming of secret societies in high schools. He mentioned cases in Bordentown, N. J.

"The members happen to be students and the high school gives them a place to collect and meet secretly. Unfortunately the members are usually children from high grade families," he said.

He said that as far as the association knows there are no such secret societies in the Delhaas area. Dr. Cary said that there are rumors that "it has touched lightly in surrounding areas."

Sees Good In Arrest

The Rev. Philip Weiss, pastor of Oxford Valley Chapel, will mention the spread of obscene literature in his sermon tomorrow. He cited the good done by the capture this week of Albert Cicciotti, Bristol, who has been charged with the selling of obscene literature.

The Rev. Edward G. Yeomans, pastor of Bristol Presbyterian Church, said the capture was "just the beginning." He announced that the Bristol Ministerium will meet to discuss the problem of the selling of salacious materials.

The Rev. William S. Woodman, pastor of Newportville Community Church, pointed to the problem of the sale of obscene materials to children as an example of "parental delinquency" rather than juvenile delinquency.

When the new wing of the St. Francis Hospital, Trenton, is opened the first of the year, these new maternity ward of the building will be one of the most modern in the United States, according to Miss Mary Laura Krysa, head nurse.

Ike's Speech Gets Praise of Women

GOP Group Plans Wire to President

DOYLE TOWN — Christmas greens, red candles and a vote to wire congratulations to President Dwight D. Eisenhower for his Atomic Energy speech before the United Nations General Assembly were main topics at the annual Christmas tea of Bucks County Republican Women held at Doylestown Country Club.
Prior to the tea, which is the club's main event of the year, a program of music was presented, with group carol singing and several solo numbers. John Elfrman accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Elfrman.

Suggestion Spontaneous
The suggestion to send the congratulatory wire to the President arose spontaneously at the music presentation and was unanimously approved by club members. A convention report was given by Mrs. Charles F. Child, Mrs. Joseph Howe and Mrs. Edward P. Gle. Held at Harrisburg, theme of the convention was "Foundation For Victory" with the center of interest on women of integrity in high offices.

CD Good Place to Start
Getting more women into elective and appointive positions will be possible through continued interest of interest throughout the year, and Civil Defense is a good place to start showing interest, with local setups greatly in need of volunteers, it was explained.
The true meaning of freedom, was another point in the discussion, included "States Rights," and working with other nations to maintain a truly representative United Nations.

'Good Turnout'
Although the attendance was somewhat less than last year, there was a good crowd, and pourers Mrs. William D. Davisville, and Mrs. Norman Lear, Doylestown, were kept busy with hot tea and coffee. Tea committee chairman, Mrs. F. A. Good, headed a large committee.
It was reported that Mrs. William Barringer, secretary for the past eight years, had resigned and Miss Emily Clymer will take her place for the remainder of the year.

Levittown Movie Theater Delayed
Construction of a movie theater in the Levittown shopping center has been delayed by a change in plans, Melvin J. Fox, Philadelphia theater owner, said today.
He estimated that construction on the 1100-seat building will be started in about ten days.
Fox announced a contest to name the new building. The person submitting the best name for the theater will be presented with a season's pass to the completed movie house, Fox said.
The building will be erected on a site northwest of the Sun Ray-Penn Fruit building.

Jaycees Feature Yuletide Auction
If you're looking for a new and different way to raise money for a charity, for a Christmas donation, the Lower Bucks County Junior Chamber of Commerce used a rather novel device last night.
At its second annual Christmas dinner-dance, held at Pennsbury Inn, and attended by 30 members the group held an auction. They auctioned off dollar gifts that each member was asked to bring. Sold to the highest bidder, the gifts brought in a great deal more than a dollar each. According to the Chamber's president, David Clarke, Morrisville, the funds collected will go to a local charity. The charity has not been selected yet.
Program chairman was Frederick Rockhill.

Weather Expert Believes Storms Can Be Controlled

WASHINGTON—(INS)—An expert who heads a special "rainmaking" study for President Eisenhower said he is convinced today that man can make or stop storms and may be able to dissipate developing tornadoes and hurricanes.
Capt. Howard Thomas Orville, chairman of an advisory committee making a special weather-control survey, pointed out that such efforts could have "great implications from a military standpoint."

Meanwhile, a separate eight-man committee of private meteorologists urged a complete overhaul of the U. S. Weather Bureau. It charged that the agency is operating "on standards 20 to 40 years behind the times."

The group of professional experts, in a 59-page report to Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks called for more money for the bureau and said appropriations "have been frugal to the point of diminishing returns."

Orville told a news conference that his committee will begin intensive work on all rainmaking methods next week. He said the big problem is how much ability does man possess to alter weather conditions.
The expert, a consultant for the Bendix Aviation Corp., said there is evidence that seeding clouds with dry ice or silver iodide will produce rain and that over-seeding will break up a developing rainstorm.

Europe To Hear Atom Arms Aid

Officials On Way To NATO Talks

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Official sources indicated today that the United States may tell its European Allies next week how it may place tactical atomic weapons in their hands.

A decision was made after Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson left Washington for the annual meeting of the Atlantic Treaty Organization Council of Ministers today in Paris.
Dulles declared that the free world's armed might must always, even though it is Russia, will accept President Eisenhower's atomic peace plan. The President, in his United Nations address Tuesday, made it clear that America's armed forces have available the mightiest arsenal of atomic weapons mankind has ever produced.

It is felt in some Washington quarters that the U. S. must extend this arsenal to its European Allies so that they might be strengthened by Western forces of atomic might right on Russia's doorstep.
While the mechanics of such a transfer may be explained to the 14 NATO countries in Paris, it should be noted that Congress must give its approval before the U. S. can share its atomic secrets.

However, State Department sources hinted that Wilson and his aides will lay before the defense ministers of the NATO partners the technicalities of placing tactical atomic weapons into the hands of the NATO armies.

Observers believed the council will resolve to increase next year's financial commitments over those of the past 12 months. It is also believed that such increases probably will be used to boost NATO's air strength and weapons program rather than to enlarge its ground forces.

Texas Pair Find Fun In Making Their Furniture

DALLAS, Tex. (INS) — If you like nice furniture but are short on cash, here are some tips from a Dallas couple who used talent and hard work to supply many things they wanted.

Mr. and Mrs. Fallon Snyder, the parents of two small girls, made many pieces of basic furniture to furnish their home.

Snyder designed and built their dining room table and twin chests, a dressing table for the bathroom, a swing-down table for the kitchen, and a room divider bookcase for the living room.

Mrs. Snyder is the "finisher." She says it is a hard job but a satisfying one. She uses hot linseed oil first, then five coats of shellac and two coats of varnish, with plenty of sanding before and after each application.

The twin chests and dining room table are made of Philippine mahogany, and the soft sheen over the wood grain is a tribute to Mrs. Snyder's ability.

Her husband's favorite gadget is the kitchen table that swings down from its wall frame and extends over a washing machine, giving his wife much-needed working space in the area that would otherwise be wasted.

For a room-divider, Snyder built a well designed piece to separate dining and living areas. Shelves on the dining side hold books and bric-a-brac, and the living room side backs up to a studio couch.

THE HANDY HOMERS

All Home Owners Like To Get Busy With Paint Brush

NEW YORK (INS) — Painting is by far the most popular single activity among do-it-yourself fans, a special survey has revealed.

What's more, 17 out of every 20 homeowners are do-it-yourselfers with a paint-brush and other household tools.

According to survey figures, 80 per cent of all U. S. homeowners do their own painting. This covers everything from touching up the kitchen chairs to redoing the whole house.

Twelve per cent of the nation's homeowners do their own papering, and 36 per cent are their own garden experts. Next in do-it-yourself popularity were wood-working and carpentry.

Miss Kelly advises non-skid, paper-thin pads as the best preventive of throw rug mishaps.

SKIDDING RUGS CAUSE MANY HOME MISHAPS

COLOMBIA, Mo. (INS) — Many deaths from falls are largely traceable to carelessness with throw rugs.

These fatal accidents could have been avoided if simple precautions had been taken, according to Amy Kelly, a member of the National Safety Council.

Miss Kelly advises non-skid, paper-thin pads as the best preventive of throw rug mishaps.

Housing Program Takes Shape; Must Win Congress' Approval

WASHINGTON (INS) — Administration leaders are hoping to win Congressional approval of their new housing program by next spring when the home building season officially gets under way throughout the country.

Housing officials admit it will be a tough job getting Congress to whip out a complicated, if not controversial, housing law in less than three months time.

But they are willing to give it a try because the stakes are pretty high. The feeling is that any delay in passing the law will have a bearing on how many new homes are constructed in 1954.

Proposals now under study by President Eisenhower's special Housing Advisory Committee call for a broad new housing program to rid the nation of slums and maintain high home production.

Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole says he still hopes for production of one million new homes and apartments next year, but believes that 900,000 dwellings is more realistic.

This may be based on expectations that effects of the worst mortgage money shortage in the post-war years still will hold down housing operations early next year even if Congress acts fast on new legislation.

Nevertheless, home builders and other allied groups feel that the action of the House and Senate will play a major role in determining whether housing output runs at top speed next spring.

By next Wednesday, Cole and his 22-man Housing Advisory Committee will report their findings and recommendations to the President.

A few days later Mr. Eisenhower will discuss the report in detail with his Congressional leaders and then use it to form the basis for legislative proposals to be submitted in January.

In this connection, Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams says that home construction, rehabilitation and financing "should not be a socialized occupation of the federal government" but should be handled in a "partnership" with the cities and states.

Quick Way

Wall-washing can be done in less time if you use two galvanized steel pails, one filled with soapy water and the other with clear rinse water. You'll be able to rinse the walls better and save trips for extra water.

2 Housing Groups Get Together On Apartment Plans

WASHINGTON (INS) — Two national housing organizations, which have differed sharply in the past, have asked the White House to back a plan aimed at increasing construction of apartment houses.

The proposed plan would broadly relax Federal Housing Administration rules on rental projects and allow the agency for the first time in several years to sponsor a large apartment construction program.

Key feature of the proposal is a provision allowing builders to make ten per cent down payments on apartments valued under $9,000 in place of the 20 per cent now required by the FHA.

The National Association of Home Builders and the National Association of Housing Officials have had sharp differences over public housing. This is believed to be the first time in recent years that they have made a joint recommendation concerning housing legislation.

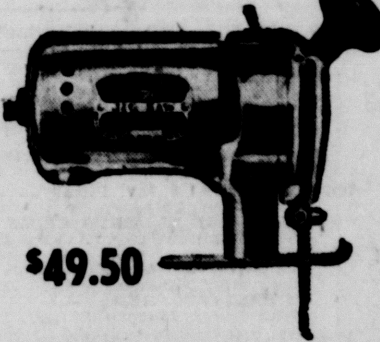

The joint proposal, aimed mainly at combatting slums, calls for "federal assistance" for rehabilitation projects and provisions for suspending certain FHA neighborhood regulations in decayed housing areas scheduled for redevelopment.

They've been taken in by so many "GIMMICK" ads that they immediately ask, "What's the catch?" or "Where are the hidden charges?" WE WERE AMAZED. They seem to expect it.

CONSIDER THESE FACTS

- Rents and living costs may rise but mortgage payments on your home do not increase.
- 55 out of every 100 Americans have attained the goal of home ownership . . . by looking at the BENEFITS OF OWNING A HOME, not by postponing a decision because they were unwilling to make relatively minor compromises with an "ideal".
- Buying a home is a sound investment. Your cash equity grows with each payment. Each improvement you make which contributes to YOUR enjoyment of YOUR HOME also adds to its value.
- The home owner has a safe harbor against inflationary storms . . . His money is at work . . . profitably. During inflationary times cash in the bank loses purchasing power, while real estate rises in worth.
- As a home owner, you will enjoy income tax savings. Your mortgage interest payments and real estate taxes are deductible from federal . . . income tax returns.

Dusting Off The News

By CHARLES O. MOLZ

The Mill street stores are full of pipes for Christmas, as usual. But whatever became of the man in the picture-smoking jacket, head tilted back in an easy chair, volume of James Oliver Curwood in his hand?

Our next door neighbor, who never turns down a chance to worry, is concerned about his father-in-law, who at this time in other years always ordered hot buttered rum.

Lazy Louie says he has been looking over some of the calendars put out by the Mill street merchants and all of them still show the first of the month, when the rent is due.

The end of the Oxford suit over the 1950 explosion at the Janney quarry was in keeping with the backdrop. There was a real big whoosh—a mistrial.

Willy Nally, our erudite Levittown sleuth, says he was never able to take the engagement of Jack Dempsey as anything more than a sporting event, but he was sorry to see the old Manassa Mauler take the count on a forty million dollar purse.

It turns out now that all the build-up toward a new census in Tullytown is most prosaic. A couple of guys want to buy a drink for the house.

We hope everyone thinks well of a man like our friend, Horace Freck, of Burlington, who has been a fireman for 20 years. You can figure out how much money he has saved on gasoline in not having to chase the engines down the street like other people.

County Club Assn. Adds To Program, Forms Dart League

Two area groups have voted to join the Lower Bucks County Clubmen's Association, according to Henry Kornstedt, president of the association.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars posts of Morrisville and Levittown joined the association at a dinner for new members. The dinner was held at the Moose Home, Bristol.

In explaining the purpose and history of the association to the prospective members, Kornstedt said that the purpose of the association is to promote sportsmanship among its member clubs. Twelve area clubs belong to the association, and several more are expected to join shortly, Kornstedt said.

Kornstedt said that, in line with its sportsmanship program, a dart league will be started the first of the year. He said the association hopes to expand the league to include bowling and shuffleboard.

Unusual Features Planned By Scouts

Edgington Cub Pack 60 will hold its monthly meeting in Christ P. E. Church parish hall, December 16th at 7:30 p. m.

There will be several unusual features, one being a visit from Santa. Each cub is to receive a gift and a box of candy. However, in order to receive a gift, one must take a gift (gift wrapped, with no name) and not to exceed 50c in value. The theme for this month is a "Happy Game Fair."

Cub Pack 60 is participating in the world relief fund to help Scouts in foreign countries. Each Cub is to shine a penny and paste a piece of string on the back of it. The penny will then be hung on a tree for the evening and later given to the WRF. The statement has been made that if each scout will give one penny, $10,000 should be available to help Scouts overseas.

All are invited to participate and join in the fun. There will be games, gifts, and refreshments.

State Will Join In School Tests Of Polio Vaccine

HARRISBURG — (INS) — The State Health Department today said Pennsylvania will participate in a nationwide test program to determine the effectiveness of a new vaccine to prevent paralytic poliomyelitis.

The program, called by the department the "largest test program of its kind in medical history," will be carried out by Pennsylvania health authorities in cooperation with the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The department said the areas from which the students will be selected has not been decided, nor has a date been determined when injections will begin.

The new trial vaccine was developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk at the University of Pittsburgh laboratories under a grant from the March of Dimes.

Each participating student will receive three shots, according to the department. The second shot will follow the initial injection by two weeks and the third shot will be given about a month after the second.

The health records of the vaccinated children will be compared with first and third grade students in the same schools to determine effectiveness of the new vaccine.

Two-Thirds of Family Now In States; Bo-Bo Awaited

By Elma E. Haefner

The Moore family is returning to the United States by "degrees," the second "contingent" having dropped anchor in the New York area today. The Moores are Warrant Officer William C. Moore and his wife Doris, of Levittown. The final member of the family yet to make the westward crossing of the Atlantic is "Bo-Bo," a dachshund, but it is expected the trio will in the near future all be together at 355 Appletree drive, Levittown.

Yes, there was a warm reunion at Camp Kilmer, New Brunswick, N. J., today, when the warrant officer was greeted by Doris after arriving from Germany on the General Haan. He knew a home was awaiting him, for it was last July "Bill" suggested that Doris come home after 20 months in Germany and secure a house. Armed with power of attorney, she purchased for the family the Appletree drive property, and soon had transformed it with her treasures from abroad and her new furniture.

Not only did Doris get herself a house, but a job to "boot," serving since mid-November as PBX operator at the office of the Bristol Daily Courier.

The family is a widely-travelled one. Warrant Officer Moore, has been provost marshal at Schwabisch Hall, Germany, and the couple lived about 50 miles from Stuttgart. During the 20 months that his wife was with him in Germany, Moore and Doris made trips to a number of European countries. France, Austria, Switzerland, Norway, Sweden, the Netherlands were included in occasional itineraries; as well as southern Germany.

Europe was not the only spot to which Doris accompanied her husband, for she was employed by the U. S. Government from a period in 1946 on, while he was stationed in the Philippines and in the Hawaiian Islands. For a time she was a Civil Service employee at Fort Dix, N. J. During Warrant Officer Moore's assignment at Fort Dix, the couple resided in Bristol Terrace II.

Where the next assignment will be is a moot question. Moore, in the army for 23 years, has two years to serve until retirement.

There will be many familiar objects in his new Levittown house, for Moore helped his wife choose some of them while abroad. Among the treasured pieces they bought while overseas, and which now grace their home, are a Persian rug, English wedgewood, porcelain from the Russian zone of Germany, including figurines, hand-painted coffee service from Austria, and china items from France.

"My wardrobe includes shoes from nearly every country," Doris adds, as she mentally considered their variety of leathers, materials and colors.

One question that bothers them not a little is "Will Bo-Bo like his new home and surroundings?" another "Will he remember us?"

At present he is the M. P. mascot and the family claims "He only goes to the M. P.'s." The Moores are hoping their reunion with Bo-Bo will be mutually satisfying.

You Cannot Hide From God
"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ" . . . then "your life is hid with Christ in God." Acts 16:31 and Col. 3:3.

You cannot hide from God, Though mountains cover you; His eye our secret thoughts behold.

His presents all our lives unfold, He knows our purposes untold; You can not hide from God.

You can not hide from God; No matter what you do He meets you at life's every turn.

He knows your thoughts that blight and burn, He weeps when His own Son you spurn; You can not hide from God.

You can not hide from God; Though quietly you go, He notes your footsteps ere they fall.

He hears your silent heartfelt call, His knowledge rules high over all; You can not hide from God.

You can not hide from God—This one thing you can do If you would save your sinful soul.

If you would be made pure and whole, If you would reach the higher goal—Your soul must hide in God.

Bristol Roms Over TC; Bensalem Defeated

Attardo and Crosby Fire 69-55 Victory

By TOM JUNO

A smooth-working Bristol High combination made its home debut last night by scoring an astonishing 69-55 win over its old nemesis, Trenton Catholic High.

It was a sweet triumph for the victory-starved Bristol followers who waited since 1947 for its second win over the Jesuites. The Golden Wave's edition of 1953-54 was only a shell of former teams. It had no Ronnie Logan, Dick Gledhill, Harvey Johnson, Don Solinsky, Leo Chester, or Norbert Klimaszewski who had field goal dunking parties against Bristol teams.

But even those Trenton Catholic teams of yesteryear would have had to go some to beat the Bristol boys' style of play last night. In addition to its high-scoring power, Coach Ben Watson's lads instituted a defense that the Catholic aggregation found very difficult to break.

Long Time No FG

It took the Jersey boys seven minutes and 20 seconds of the game to score their field goal when Harold Hall landed from the circle. After this it took two minutes and 45 seconds of the second

Pennsbury Rips Mt. Holly Five In 54-35 Game

Pennsbury High captured its first basketball victory of the young season last night by downing hapless Mt. Holly, 54-35, in the Pennsbury gym.

Pennsbury led by 12-8 at the first period, 26-14 at half-time and 46-25 going into the final period before Coach Don Henry's wave of substitutes gave the Jerseyites shooting room.

Pa. Fish Licenses Go On Sale Dec. 15

HARRISBURG — (INS) — The State Revenue Department today reported 1954 fishing licenses will go on sale Dec. 15 by county and treasurers authorized agents.

No license is required of anglers under 16 years of age.

License fees revised by the 1953 legislature put the cost of the permit at $2.50 for Pennsylvania residents. The five-day tourist fishing license remains $2.

Non-resident licenses are issued on a reciprocal basis with other states, with the Commonwealth charging the same amount for a non-resident as the individual's home state would charge a Pennsylvanian.

Torano, Levittown Paired in Feature

Torano's Garage, a team too infrequently at the post to be properly rated in Lower Bucks County Athletic Conference competition to date, gets a big test tomorrow afternoon when it takes on strong Levittown A. A. in the second game of a doubleheader at Rohm and Haas Clubhouse, Bristol.

The two teams clash for third place in the loop after Morrisville's four-times losers take on sixth place Rohm and Haas in a 1:30 p. m. opener.

Torano easily handled Morrisville in an opener, then gave high-geared Franklin A. C. an interesting afternoon before dropping an 83-65 decision last Sunday. Levittown, on the other hand, has won three games, but lost its one real toughie to K... on Dec. 3.

Both teams are expected to be at full strength for the key test. Levittown, which played its last two

NEW YORK—(INS)—The regular professional football season reaches a dramatic climax this weekend with the race for the Western Division championship going down to a possible photo finish at New York.

The Detroit Lions are two-touchdown favorites to win this last game which would give them the division crown and a world title playoff date with the Cleveland Browns. But they will meet an altogether different New York club that the one which won three and lost eight to date.

The Lions, annihilated, 62 to 14, by Cleveland last week, have Steve Owen coaching his last game after 23 years. And the club which upset second-place Philadelphia in the Giants' last home appearance, might rise to the occasion for Owen and give the Lions enough trouble to send them into a tie-breaker with San Francisco.

Detroit is not totally unaware of this. As General Manager Nick Kerkow put it Friday:

"When you have a coaching situation such as has happened here, you sometimes can get strange emotional results or the field. I would be much happier if the announcement of Owen's retirement had been skipped until we left New York."

If the Giants miraculously thwart Bobby Layne, Doak Walker Inc., and San Francisco performs according to the script against Baltimore, the resultant first-place would have to be settled Dec. 20 at San Francisco.

In the week's other major attraction, Otto Graham will try to lead the Cleveland Browns to their 2nd straight victory over a Philadelphia team determined to spoil the visitors' perfect season.

A victory for the Eastern Division champs would distinguish them as the first team in pro football to go undefeated in regular season play since the Chicago Bears turned the trick 11 years ago.

Eagles Seek Second
It would also ruin the Eagles' hope for undisputed possession of second place, and a Washington victory over visiting Pittsburgh would send Philadelphia further down the ladder to third place behind the Redskins.

The Los Angeles Rams can assure at least third place for themselves in a revolving door.

Four-Point Quarter
Coach Marion Van Horn's team scored only four points in the first period and eight in the second to go into the rest period with a 34-12 deficit. The Owls managed to rally for 37 last half points compared to the winners' 46. In the process they gave every indication that they have no intentions of playing whipping boy for all and sundry.

Van Horn, disheartened by the wallowing but not surprised, had one consolation. "Now," he said, "I can talk to them in practice."

"It was the same in football. Until we got wallowed in our opener, they thought they knew it all. We went from that defeat to the league championship. Maybe..."

As rusty as they were at the unveiling, the Owls exhibited some talent for the game. They will rank as probably the tallest LBCAC team when intra-fraternal strife commences.

13 for Frantz
Bob Frantz, Bensalem's six-foot-six pivot, registered a creditable debut when he scored 13 points, claimed 12 rebounds and passed out two assists before fouling out in the last period. Only his reluctance to mix it under the boards kept the willowy center from stealing the entire show.

Bob Lake came in for another 11 points, while Frank Harper had seven and tiny Perugini eight for the Birds. The team hit on only 15 of 53 field goal tries.

Upper Moreland, moderately tall, extremely fast and keen-sighted to the man, got 23 points out of set-shooting Carmen Tempesta, 18 from jumpshooting Paul Belfatti and 12 from Ralph Stewart. The winners had remarkable success in both zone defense and ripping it apart for layups. Belfatti scored heavily from a pivot post smack in the middle of the defense.

Owls Jolted, 80-49, By Upper Moreland

By JOE MUCH (Courier Sports Editor)

Bensalem High's basketball battalion ran into more combat than it could digest last night at Willow Grove and took an 80-49 horsewhipping from Upper Moreland as a disturbing introduction to its 1953-54 campaign.

The Owls, who nurse hopes of making a ripple in the Lower Bucks County League come January, had no way of defending themselves against a team that may take all the Buxmont League marbles this Winter. They had been exposed to this imposing opening test only six days away from their first drill and long before most of their personnel had been unable to unkink "football muscles."

The UM's, an alert, crisp-passing and 40-per cent accurate clan of marksmen in their opener, ran up a ridiculous 27-5 lead in the first 11 minutes and virtually glided home. And to make it entirely uncomfortable for the Birds, the home team uncorked a full-court pressing defense that made hamburger of any Bensalem rebuttal. For the Owls, it was like being caught landed two apiece enabling the Owls to cut the gap to 38-19 at one point. Here, however, the UM's put together another seven-point string to discourage any real Bensalem outburst.

The third quarter ended at 57-32 and Bensalem had just about used up its quota of field goals. The Owl meshed 13 foul throws, five by Perugini, in the last quarter and landed on Frantz' pusher and Harper's layup to offer some rebuttal to UM's 23-point nightcap.

A total of 16 hosts got into the brawl and nine of them scored. Van Horn used his entire ten-man traveling squad and got contributions from eight of them.

The Jayvee game had a similar flavor. Upper Moreland's fledglings running off to a 45-22 conquest. Dan Bready, who later saw varsity action, fired up 16 points for UM, while Jack Bador's eight topped Bensalem.

Doug Ford Takes Miami Open Lead

MIAMI — Doug Ford of Yonkers, although soaring to a 71 Friday, N. Y., held a two-stroke lead to Fred Wampler of Indianapolis day as the Miami Open Golf Tournament moved into the third round.

The 30-year-old pro, second highest money-winner last year, shot a three-under-par 67 Friday for a 135 total at the end of 36 holes. Veteran Al Broesch of Garden City, N. Y., stayed in second place

Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., leader of the first round with a 65, lost his putting touch and his temper as he went three over par to 73. Wall verbally blasted photographers on the 18th green, accusing them of clicking their shutters while he was putting.

SCHOOL NEWS

DELHAAS HIGH

Forty-three business senior girls and two faculty members of Delhaas High School made a tour of the U. S. Steel Company plant at Morrisville, Tuesday, Dec. 8.

On the tour, arranged through Al Getchey, general supervisor of employee services at the plant, the group was guided by "Worthy" Shomo, assistant to Getchey, and "Wally" Ganches, industrial relations analyst.

Doing all of their traveling by bus, the Delhaas group witnessed the making of coke; saw the wharf where ore boats from Venezuela will dock; observed the Hazel and Nancy furnaces in action; and walked through the half-mile long rolling mill. In general, the sight-seers saw every phase of the Fairless operation from arrival of the ore to the finished steel.

At the completion of the tour the girls, assembled in a conference room, listened to a half-hour talk by Robert Murphy, general supervisor of personnel and methods, on job opportunities at Fairless for high school graduates. A question-and-answer session followed.

This tour, arranged on the school end by Harry Startzell, senior business teacher, and by J. E. Sparks, senior English teacher, was organized to familiarize the girls with local business and industries so that the Delhaas seniors can become acquainted with the area in which they will live after June, 1954, graduation.

Beauty's a Good Investment

EVERY WOMAN loves fragrance accessories. That's why most dressing tables boast an array of perfume bottles.

By HELEN FOLLETT
Few other investments give a woman more genuine pleasure and satisfaction than the money she spends at the beauty salon.

It's her haven. She hurries to the salon to celebrate when she is happy. She trails there when she feels low to get her spirits lifted. It is her rest cure, her retreat from the demands of the family. Here she can pull herself together, walk out refreshed and radiant—complexion, blooming, hairdo chic, fingernails polished.

It's an institution
Her fellow customers are of all ages from the young girl getting a trim and a permanent, to Grandma, getting her white hair styled and cut. The bride may be present, getting prettied for the wedding day.

The beauty shop has become an institution. Because of it, women are pleasing to the eye.

But what about the woman who can't spare a few hours for these delightful luxuries? She must roll her own curls, give herself a five-minute facial at bedtime, take care of her fingernails. And she must learn the right way to do these little tasks.

A Good Cream

The most important item of her good-looks working equipment is a soothing cream to clean her skin, to remove make-up, to apply when her hands have been taken tips at her complexion.

A hairbrush is her best weapon against hair troubles. The bristles must be firm so they will not bend. She must give hair not less than fifty strokes a night.

A Complete Manicure Kit

The manicuring kit should include a flexible metal file, emery boards, orangewood sticks, cuticle cream, curved scissors, polish, polish remover and a nail white pencil to pass under the eaves.

Perfume's something a woman needs if she's to feel as beautiful as she looks. Fragrance accessories are good morale builders. They give a woman a lift, make her feel glamorous and exciting. That's why every dressing table should boast a bottle of perfume, toilet water or cologne.

New Sweet Potato Will Can Easily

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Agriculture Department researchers reported that they have developed a new canning variety of sweet potato which is especially well-adapted to the eastern shore of Maryland.

The sweet potato, known as the Sunnyside, also is expected to prove suitable to other areas, although initial tests were made at the plant industry station at Beltsville, Md.

The Sunnyside has one-fifth more carotene, a source of vitamin A, than good strains of the Puerto Rico variety. It also bakes well, and holds its attractiveness and tastiness when vacuum-packed or canned.

In addition, the Sunnyside possesses some resistance to black rot and is highly resistant to cracking roots.

Population Survey Set For Next Week

A population survey will be conducted in this area next week, according to Thomas V. Settle of the U. S. Census Bureau district office in Philadelphia.

The survey, taken monthly here and in 229 other areas throughout the country, provides up-to-date national figures on employment and unemployment. This information is used by business and government for analysis of current labor force conditions.

Supervisor Settle pointed out that information furnished to the Census Bureau concerning individual persons is accorded confidential treatment under the law and only statistical totals are published. Interviews for the current survey in this area are handled by Mrs. Hazel B. Buswell, of North Wales, Pa.

New Sweet Potato Will Can Easily

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Agriculture Department researchers reported that they have developed a new canning variety of sweet potato which is especially well-adapted to the eastern shore of Maryland.

The sweet potato, known as the Sunnyside, also is expected to prove suitable to other areas, although initial tests were made at the plant industry station at Beltsville, Md.

The Sunnyside has one-fifth more carotene, a source of vitamin A, than good strains of the Puerto Rico variety. It also bakes well, and holds its attractiveness and tastiness when vacuum-packed or canned.

In addition, the Sunnyside possesses some resistance to black rot and is highly resistant to cracking roots.

ELIZABETH WOODWARD SAYS:

Don't Say Anything And Enjoy Yourself

"DEAR MISS WOODWARD: I'm 15 and I like two boys very much. When I see one I think I like him best, but when I see the other one I know I like him equally well. Neither one suspects that I like him, so it makes it much easier for me to talk to them. I'm afraid to let either one know how I feel, yet I'd like to have you tell me how to do it."

You can tell the boy, yourself, or have someone else tell him for you. But which one are you going to tell? And what exactly can you tell him? Dare you confess that you like him one minute and somebody else the next? And what good would it do you anyhow?

As things are now, you have no trouble talking to either of them because they don't know how you feel. If they did know, you might suddenly get to feel all shy and girlish—and being with them would be a terrific strain. Particularly if they know they were sharing your affection.

So why say anything? Stay mum and enjoy being with them both. If you speak up, you may lose one or both.

It's Already Worked Out
"DEAR MISS WOODWARD: I'm 13 and for a while I went steady with a boy. My father was dead against it because of our ages, so I used to sneak out to meet him. One night dad caught me and made a fool of me in front of him and his friends and forbade me to see him again. The boy stopped speaking to me, of course, and later when I found enough courage I asked him if he was. He said he wasn't mad, but that he didn't want to get me in more trouble with his family, and besides, his dad had persuaded him he was too old for me. I figured he didn't like me any more and didn't know how to tell me."

"I went out with other boys, but I can't forget him. I compare them to him and don't enjoy myself at all. I'm afraid when he sees me out with other boys that he'll think I don't like him any more. He's got me so mixed up I don't know what to think or do."

Your position was made very clear to the boy by your father. He incidentally, was pretty annoyed to find you'd disobeyed him. And the scene, though awkward and embarrassing for everybody, made the boy's position clear, too.

The boy figures he's not the one for you so he's keeping his distance. That's evidence enough to convince you that the situation has already been resolved.

Hankering for him won't do you any good. It won't bring him back when he figures it's better to be gone. Dating other boys won't influence him one way or another. He considers you a closed chapter in his life. Trying to patch things up with him will remind him of your father who incidentally, is a gentleman you'd better not forget. He's not going to like your going with him now any better than he did in the beginning!

Why Go Through It Again
"DEAR MISS WOODWARD: I went with Matt until last week when we broke up. It was mostly because he hasn't kept his dates and because he was believing untrue things about me that another girl was telling him. I told him we'd be through if he paid any attention to her, and he kept it up. So that was that. But am I sorry? I can't get him off my mind. What will I do?"

A few missed dates aren't important in the long run, except as they indicate a basic carelessness and thoughtlessness on the part of your Matt. If he couldn't be considered enough to warn you of a change of plans, you can't count on him very heavily.

More serious is his willingness to believe a lot of idle talk about you without listening to your side of the story. That shows a remarkable lack of trust and confidence in you. Enough to shake all the confidence you ever had in him.

His carelessness, disregard for your feelings, and his eagerness to doubt and distrust you are fundamental parts of his disposition. They go too deep to be considered the cause of just a little quarrel. They're enough for a real rupture.

So why keep such a disagreeable character constantly on your mind? What earthly good does it do? Wash him off as a mistake; then you won't be tempted to patch things up and have to go through the same turmoil all over again.

What's In It For You
"DEAR MISS WOODWARD: Jack came here several months ago, a complete stranger, and the very first week he was here he married a girl with a dubious reputation. Two days after their wedding they separated. I'm 16 and he's 23 and nobody knows anything about him, but he's the best-looking guy I've ever seen and I've never felt about any boy the way I feel about him. I'd like to go with him, but if I did I'd get a terrible reputation. So I don't know what I'd say if he asked me. I believe in him and would give him a chance, but my family would have a fit. What am I to do? Why can't I forget him?"

You can't forget him because you don't want to. You think it's "romantic" to pine for a good-looking and mysterious stranger who apparently to date doesn't even know you exist.

What good does mooning for him do you? The man is older and attractive—but you know nothing particularly good about him. He's apparently impetuous, rash, unstable, unreliable and he's married. There's nothing in it for you. So when you see him around, tell yourself he's pretty to look at—and that's all.

Your Birthday

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 12—Born today you are genial, understanding, sympathetic, a good mixer and astute in being able to judge the trend of public opinion. You would make a good politician and with careful development of your gifts, even a statesman. You have an excellent memory and are quick to learn. You are able to collate facts, analyze them and then present them so that everyone understands their significance.

There is another facet to your character which gives you a deep love for everything that is beautiful. You have artistic appreciation and considerable ability in the creative arts. However, it is more likely that you will save this for your leisure hours, for you will consider that your first duty is toward the successful achievement of success in your chosen profession, whatever it may be. You are a little too inclined to think of everything on a gigantic scale and sometimes will neglect the minute detail which can be very important. You have the ability to keep everything under control in time of crisis and seem to know instinctively what needs to be done.

You will have a large circle of friends and are a good judge of character. You are rarely mistaken in your first estimate. You are not demonstrative in showing your affections but your love is a deep and sincere one. Your marriage should be one which brings unusual happiness to you and your entire family.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—If it is possible for you to do so, plan to get plenty of rest and relaxation. You need it.
Capricorn (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Attendance at the church of your choice can bring you a much-needed spiritual uplift at this time.
Aquarius (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—A good sermon might do you a great deal of good today. Take the whole family along with you to church.
Pisces (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—A fine day for some quiet relaxation and letting down of mounting tensions. You have earned it.
Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 20)—Next week will be a very busy one so make a real effort to get some extra rest today. Recharge the human batteries!

Taurus (Apr. 21-May 21)—If you are still behind schedule, then you may have to sacrifice a "rest" day and make it a "work" day!
Gemini (May 22-June 21)—Take another day off and see that you are completely relaxed. Busy days are coming: be prepared.
Cancer (June 22-July 23)—You may find it worth while to pay a visit on some friends you may have been neglecting lately.

Leo (July 24-Aug. 23)—Try to forget the work-day schedule and catch up on your recreation. All work will make you lethargic.
Virgo (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—It might well be for you to relax tensions now and get some necessary rest and recreation.
Libra (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—If all your Christmas preparations are finished—as they should be by now—then have a little fun.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 23)—You should be able to receive spiritual inspiration from your church attendance today.

New Hope Group Selects Director, Sets Loan Plans

Edward S. Riley of Lumberville was elected to the board of directors of the New Hope Community Association at a recent meeting of the association. Charles H. Mueller, River road, was elected treasurer to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Robert Bodine.

The announcement was made at the session that the association will borrow about $10,000 to help meet the cost of additions now being made to the Memorial Gymnasium.

Ralph Laudenslayer will conduct a recreation program for children during the week of Dec. 28 until Jan. 2, while local schools are on vacation.

The group will hold a cookie sale on Saturday in the Solebury National Bank. Orders for Christmas greens will be taken at the same time.

On Saturday, Dec. 19, the association will hold a children's Christmas party in the Memorial Gymnasium. A tree for the party has been donated by Mrs. Edward Riley.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
A X Y Z L B A X K E
L O N G F E L L O W
One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Dean Quits Parley Table After Red Insults U. S.

PANMUNJOM—(INS)—Special Ambassador Arthur H. Dean abruptly broke off the preliminary talks for a Korea peace conference today when the Communists hurled a charge of "perfidy" at the United States.

The American envoy declared the six-week-old negotiations definitely at an end unless the Reds withdraw their allegation and ask for resumption of the talks.

The "perfidy" charge was made by a Chinese Red delegate, Huang Hua, in connection with South Korean President Syngman Rhee's unilateral liberation of 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners last June.

Conniving Charge
Huang accused the United States of "conniving" with South Korea in effecting the "escape" of the anti-Red POWs.

The "escape" was engineered by the South Koreans apparently in defiance of the wishes of the United Nations Command. It brought angry criticism in the capitals of several countries with troops in Korea.

Dean broke off the talks at the close of a Panmunjom session that lasted five hours and 45 minutes—the longest meeting since the start of the negotiations to set up the peace parley.

Reds' Han Seen
The ambassador said after the session that the statements by Huang and North Korean Delegate Ki Sok Bok were made from prepared texts, indicating a Communist intention to break off the preliminary talks.

Asked whether he would soon return to the United States, Dean replied:

"I don't know."
He added, however, that he would give the Communists "a reasonable time to decide what they wanted to do."

Reds Still at Table
The ambassador said he and his delegation walked out of the Panmunjom meeting room at 4:50 p. m., leaving the Communist delegates still sitting at the conference table.

"They must have intended to break off the talks or they would not have charged the government of the United States with perfidy," Dean said.

Huang had charged that Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief Allied armistice negotiator, had signed the war prisoner exchange articles of the truce last summer even while he was "conniving" with the ROKs to release the 27,000 anti-Red captives in South Korea.

It was here that the Chinese Communist diplomat threw the perfidy charge, precipitating the Allied walkout.

The insulting Red allegation culminated a heated argument over whether Dean was representing South Korea as well as other Allies of the U. S. in the Korean war.

Before he broke off the discussions, Dean had challenged the Reds to guarantee that Russia would sit at the peace conference as a voting Communist participant bound by its decisions.

ALL FOR THE WIFE!
GREENSBURG, Ky. — (INS)—Holland B. Judd, 26, Greensburg insurance salesman, explained that he turned in a false report that he had been kidnapped because "I just wanted to have something to tell my wife."

UPHILL BATTLE
The Trevoise-Penn Valley Parent-Teacher Association did not have a part in the action of two residents who protested to the Bensalem Township School Board Wednesday that a system of grading school children was unsatisfactory.

Mrs. Evelyn Stahl, president of the PTA who made the disclaimer today, said there has been a "good deal of feeling on the matter both ways" in the community.

Not Spokesmen
She said "The individuals who spoke before the board in no way represented our PTA." She said the grading system had never been discussed in PTA meetings.

"I feel it necessary to dispell any impression that these two people were our spokesmen," Mrs. Stahl declared, "or that our association attempted to set school policy in an administrative matter."

Edward Malone and Mrs. Carl Schreiber, both of whom have children in Trevoise Elementary School, appealed to the School Board to change the marking system from O, S, I, U, to A, B, C, D, E.

Grades Gripe
They complained that grades of Outstanding, Satisfactory, Improved and Unsatisfactory were not exact enough to tell them how their children stand in school. They asked for a return to the A to E system which was used last year in the Trevoise and Penn Valley Schools.

The School Board agreed to re-

Bristol Man and Sister Jailed as Nuisances

A brother, Trafford Ferry, 60, and his sister, Mrs. Ellnor Reynolds, 66, both of 728 Wood street, Bristol, who pleaded guilty to being a nuisance, were sentenced to the County Prison in Quarter Sessions Court by Judge Edward G. Biester.

Bristol Patrolman Matthew R. Bragg testified that he has arrested Ferry eight times for being drunk and disorderly and Mrs. Reynolds four times. He produced police department records which revealed two other arrests for Mrs. Reynolds.

Ferry, who told Judge Biester he is an electrician, was sentenced to serve from three months to a year in jail and pay the costs of prosecution.

"We want to give you a little time to 'dry out' in jail," the court said.

Mrs. Reynolds, who informed the court that she only drinks wine, was sentenced to serve from 30 days to one year in jail and pay the costs of prosecution.

Another sister, who did not take the witness stand because she is crippled, testified from a chair in front of the judge, said:

"I would love to be alone again in my own home. The only income I have is insurance from my son who was killed in the war and from damages because of my eye."

She testified a niece resides with her and that the niece has two children. Judge Biester said an investigation will be made by Juvenile Probation Officer Kathryn C. Stead and that the two children may be removed from the home. The mother asked to pay for their support if the investigation reveals it is not a fit place for youngsters to live.

Ferry has been in jail here since Nov. 23.

"One of the provisions of your parole and probation, Mrs. Reynolds, will be that you give up drinking or you will be right back in jail again," Judge Biester said.

Cornwells Heights PTA Arranges Musical Program
The Cornwells Heights Parent-Teacher Association will hold its regular meeting at 8:30 p. m. Thursday in the Cornwells Heights High School Auditorium.

The program for the evening will be the traditional Christmas music concert by the High School Choir and the Community, under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Fidler of the High School faculty. Soloists will be Evelyn Mandrell, soprano; Richard Scott, tenor; and George Walker, bass. Senior trio of Barbara Schaul, soprano, Ann Russell, second soprano, and Helen Atkinson, alto, will also sing. A Junior trio consisting of Evelyn Mandrell, soprano, Patricia Gillis, second soprano, and Pauline Gillis, alto, will contribute to the program also.

There will be no admission charge, but a generous free-will offering will be accepted. The money realized in this way will be used for program expenses and to establish a fund for new choir gowns.

The program will include traditional Christmas carols, popular Christmas music, and sacred music taken from Mendelssohn's "Elijah" and from Handel's "Messiah."

Part of the money raised in the campaign, Langsam said, will be used to amortize cost of the recently-completed Christ Chapel.

Volume Dramatized At Methodist Meeting
The Rev. Dr. Frederick Maser, of Philadelphia, district superintendent of the Northwest district of the Philadelphia Methodist Conference, dramatized the book, "The Covenant," before 20 ministers and wives when the Bucks County Methodist Ministerium met Thursday in Emille-Levittown Methodist Church, Emille.

Churches represented included Bristol, Harriman, Emille-Levittown, Morrisville, Yardley, New Hope, Bensalem, Trevoise, Holmesburg and Taylor Memorial, Philadelphia.

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Paul Foley were among the visiting group. Dr. Foley is district superintendent of the North district of the Philadelphia Conference. A chaplain from Byberry Hospital, Philadelphia, was also a guest.

A worship service was led by the Rev. L. Thomas Moore, Jr., pastor of the host church.

Following the book review, a business session was conducted by the Rev. Ralph Proud of Bristol. Mr. Proud reported on the Bucks County Training School held in Bensalem Church during the fall.

The group decided to appoint a committee of the minister and one layman from each church to set up a program for a similar school next year.

The theme, "Keeping the Christ in Christmas," was discussed. The group of ministers decided to try to do all they could to encourage the people to remember the true spirit and meaning of Christmas.

They felt that the tendency to use alcoholic beverages at Christmas parties is not to be commended.

Discussion was held about a spiritual-life mission in March for the Philadelphia and New Jersey Conferences, under the direction of Bishop Fred P. Corson.

A turkey dinner was served. Table decorations were in keeping with the Christmas season. Small gifts were presented each person.

Judy Rahn, 7, of 15 Garden lane, Levittown, is more than willing. She assists her mother, Mrs. Richard Rahn, in placing a wreath over their fireplace. She's promised to help with additional decorations later on, too.

A Four-Wheeled Christmas Present

Levittown Scoutmaster Spends His Time Aiding Local Youths

By Barbara A. Zanner

Bernard Weissman, Scoutmaster, Sunday School Teacher and Fuller Brush man gets only an occasional evening at his home, 36 Wisteria Lane, Levittown.

Not that he doesn't treasure the moments with his wife, Sylvia and two babies, but working with boys eleven through fourteen years old is a fundamental part of his life.

Bernard, who achieved the rank of Eagle Scout, in his hometown, Conshohocken, Pa., learned to live by the Boy Scout Oath and Laws. Later as an assistant Scoutmaster there and a Sunday School Teacher in nearby Norristown, he came to feel that by working with boys he was able to teach a code to live by.

Stands on Statistics
Backed by statistics on the subject, Weissman said "The percentage of teen-age boys and young men arrested who have been Boy Scouts is negligible." Scouting is one of the best answers to juvenile delinquency, Weissman feels.

A few months ago, the Brotherhood of the Levittown Jewish Center where Weissman teaches Sunday School, asked him to be Scoutmaster of Troop 103 at the center.

The troop presently numbers 23. Tenderfoots, second class and first class as well as one Star Scout, Steven Szabo, are helping to teach the younger boys. Weissman says the youths make excellent instructors.

Hope To Camp
The boys hope to go to scout camp near Doylestown, but they have one problem Weissman says. At camp the boys march to Retreat. They want to present a well-drilled formation, but now they have no place to practice. Weissman will not seek donations for troop equipment. He prefers to have the boys work for what they need.

Day hikes and overnight trips will start in February or March Weissman said. The scouts will make their own tents. The boys will do 30 per cent of the work on the tents and their mothers the other 70 per cent, Weissman explained.

The Scoutmaster hasn't got much use for television. "Before TV the kids seemed to have more time for a hike" Weissman remembers sadly. Then when television became part of American life he says, "they have to sit home to watch a football game, he complains, still shocked at the idea."

Happy Change
There was another change, however in Bernard Weissman's life which was a happier one, his family. Boys he always liked, but he had no patience for infants. Two-year-old David, and Ellen Gale, only seven weeks—his children—made him change his mind.

Weissman works in Levittown, for Levittown youth. He likes Levittown.

Beware Decorations
"If decorations are used," Chief Hagerman stressed, "use those that are non-flammable. And above all, keep them away from electric light bulbs."

He also suggested that at the end of each day's business, owners should make a careful survey of the premises to see if everything is in order.

To owners that follow these safety precautions, Chief Hagerman adds, "Merry Christmas!"

Democrats Meet In Philadelphia, Confident of '54

Stevenson Due For Main Speech At $100 Dinner

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Democratic leaders today freely forecast a victory for their party in the 1954 congressional elections and said the Republicans will be unable to make an effective campaign issue of Reds-in-government.

Adlai Stevenson led the chorus of optimism as he arrived in Philadelphia to map political strategy and to deliver a major televised speech to the nation at 11 p. m. EST.

The Democratic presidential candidate of 1952 told newsmen his party's outlook for next year is "fair and warm." He said the major issues will be "foreign trade, farm policy, taxation and foreign policy."

Elect Treasurer
Stevenson's forecast came as the Democrats gathered for their Atlantic States regional conference, a National Committee meeting to elect a new party treasurer and a fund-raising Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

Such party stalwarts as Mayor David A. Lawrence of Pittsburgh, former National Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., and one-time foreign aid chief W. Averill Harriman were equally confident of success in 1954.

$100 - Plate Dinner
Stevenson's address will climax the $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, which is expected to bring between $7,500 and $10,000 into the party treasury and cut the Democratic deficit to about $150,000.

The former Illinois governor said he will discuss "the state of the public mind, business, foreign trade and miscellaneous things." He said he also might "advertise" to the G. O. P. charges of Communism-in-government.

Other speakers at the dinner will be former Vice-President Alben W. Barkley, Mayor-elect Robert F. Wagner, Jr., of New York City and Gov. elect Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey.

Pennsbury High Sets Yule Sing For Two Choirs
Pennsbury High School's Junior and Senior high choruses will present their annual Candle-light Service for the Pennsbury PTA at the high school Dec. 16, at 8 p. m.

The first three selections will be sung by the entire chorus of 250 voices. They are "Rejoice This Night," "The Bells of Christmas" and "No Candle Was There." Soloist will be Rita Tatum.

The A Cappella Choir will sing "If Ye Would Hear the Angels Sing," "In Dulce Jubilo" and "A Carpenter Cut the Manger's Wood." Student director will be Myrna Neel.

John Perestan, Glenn Gerhart, Tom Ramsey and Rick White will form a quartet to sing a special selection. The full chorus will return to sing "On Christmas Night," "Go Tell It On the Mountains," "Christmas Candles," and "It was the Night Before Christmas."

The seventh and eighth grade chorus will combine with the full chorus for "On Bethlehem Is Born the Holy Child," followed by "Silent Night," and the Benediction will close the program. The accompanists for the program will be Doris Volk, Faith Petrovich, and Marilyn Degraw.

The chorus directors are Marilyn De Grave, Mrs. Barbara Evans and Mrs. Janet Sturrock. Instrumental numbers will be played from the tower room before the program. Arlon Wolfe is directing this part of the program.

Postmasters Pick Officers And Talk About Xmas Mail
DOYLESTOWN—Election of officers and a discussion on Christmas mail preceded the Christmas party of the Bucks County Postmasters Association held at Swartzlander Community House.

Joseph Luff, Richboro is the president for next year; Paul H. Lewis, Quakertown, vice-president, and Mrs. Edith Y. Farley secretary-treasurer.

It was explained that persons sending mail to such Philadelphia stations as Bustleton, Germantown, Roxborough and Mt. Airy should designate that they are of Philadelphia and should contain a zone number.

Zone numbers may be obtained from any postmaster. Christmas mail without zone numbers may be held up a week.

It was decided to hold a special meeting of third and fourth class postmasters to discuss the poor rents paid for office space.

Tullytown and Trevoise have recently become second class offices it was revealed.

At the party following the business meeting a humor as gift exchange was held, grab a fashion, with most of the gifts quite appropriate to the person who received them. Award of a cake was made to Mrs. S. Myra, Danboro, who received a turkey last year.

People Places and Things

By CAROL GANLER

Rules of the Road:
There's one Levittowner who, perhaps, isn't too intelligent about the amount of "brew" he consumes, but the man sure has the right attitude when it comes to safety.

Last week, at about 10 a. m., the Levittowner staggered into the Tullytown police station and asked for a policeman to drive him home, explaining that he was too drunk to do it himself. The police agreed, but before he would go, he had one additional favor to beg.

His car, it seems, was parked on Bath road, in front of a parking meter. His problem: would he get a ticket for parking overtime if he left the car there all night? Even though the red flag was up!

The police considered this problem, and then, confiscating his keys and owner's card for the night, promised he wouldn't get a ticket. Seems to us that maybe this man wasn't as intoxicated as he appeared to be. After all, it isn't every day you get a free ride home or get out of a parking ticket!

Higher Mathematics:
There's a Bristol eatery that charges 10c for a cup of coffee if you drink it at the counter, and 15c if you drink it—and don't order anything else—in a booth. The high finance behind it is this: the owner has it figured out that the napkin and glass of water cost at least 1/4 of a cent, while the waitress' work is worth 3/4. Well, nothing like figuring out all of your expenses—

Scenic Translucence:
The Morrisville public school carol sing will be on Wednesday, and a feature of the sing, according to the high school, will be the "diorama" of the Christmas story.

We never really thought our vocabulary was too drastically limited (despite our morbid propensity toward monosyllables)—but that was one word for sure that we had never seen before.

Quickly running to the dictionary, we came up with this: "diorama," a mode of scenic representation, in which a painting (partly translucent) is seen from a distance through an opening. By a combination of translucent and opaque painting and of transmitted and reflected light, and by contrivances such as screen and shutters much diversity of scenic effect is produced.

Those little devils! What will they be up to next?

A Policeman's Lot:
The Fairless Hills Civic Association, worried about the packs of dogs roaming in the neighborhood, and concerned about the fact that nothing is being done about it, was told by township supervisors that the reason the dog catcher is not "on the job," is that the man is hired on a part-time basis. When you need a dogcatcher, they were told, call the police.
